Santa Fe Conference

Jungian International Training Zürich
Civilization in Transition IV
Seeking Dialogue in a World of Closed Minds
 10/30/2014 - 11/2/2014

Santa Fe, New Mexico

With Allan Guggenbühl, Peter O'Leary, Wynette Barton &
 Jacqueline Hairston

He was a voice crying out in the wilderness when he first spoke of a coming spiritual crisis, a grave danger to civilization, if not to all human existence. Today Carl Jung's warning is our lived reality. Our world's speeding changes have ripped away our tether to the known, creating sharp divisions marked by suspicion, dissention and defensive over-reaction. Hostility is not new to humanity, but the technology that can turn hostility into massive destruction is new. Only individual consciousness, said Jung, can save us from our own destructive innovations and create a new order for a changing world.

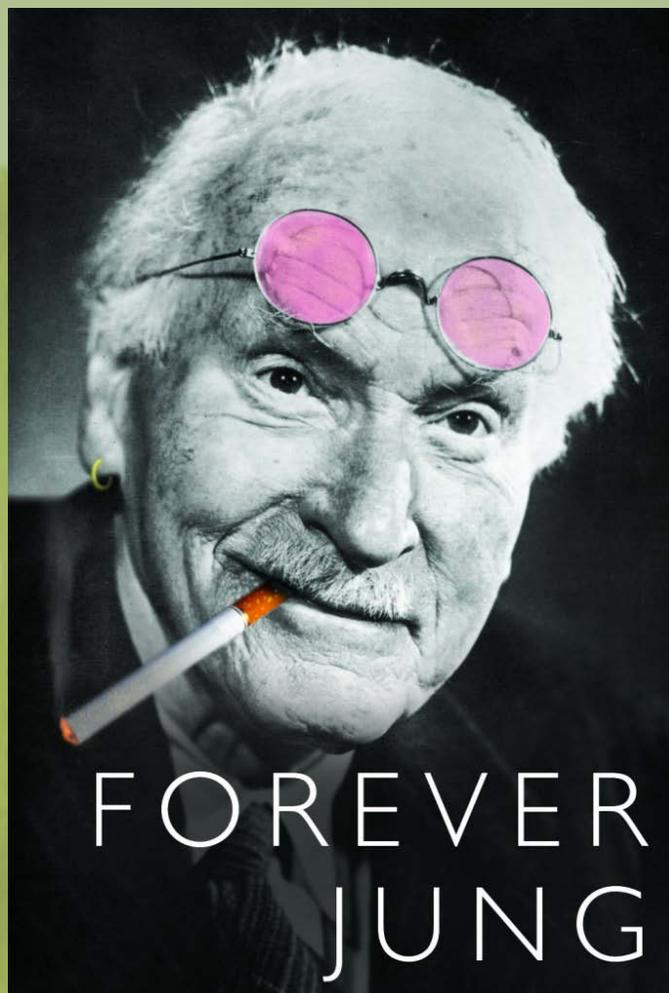

In a hostile and hotly-divided world, is civil, meaningful, conscious dialogue still possible? We live with broadcasters of every ilk using exaggerations and half truths to exploit the fears of listeners. Bloggers fill pages with venom. Discussions of social policies have become shouting matches. Listening and compromise are often mistaken for weakness. A disproportionate amount of our national budget (no one seems to know exactly how much) is dedicated to mechanisms of war, euphemistically referred to as "defense." Though kindness, relatedness and moral courage can still be found, qualities of eros are overshadowed, bringing us to the spiritual crisis that Jung foresaw.

We invite you to join us as we explore what relatedness means in a crowded, hostile world, and what Jung meant when he said individual consciousness is the best, perhaps only, hope for civilization. As diverse ideologies touch and clash in a shrinking world, he spoke of the acute need for mutual understanding, adding "Making oneself understood is impossible without comprehension of the other's viewpoint."

Our conference sponsor, the Foundation for Jungian International Training, Zurich, is grateful to the IHM Retreat Center in Santa Fe, NM for providing its serenely beautiful space to us at a minimum cost. Early registration (before May 31) at $755 includes all meals.

Celibacy and Soul:

Exploring the Depths of Chastity

By Susan J. Pollard, Jungian Analyst

Published by Fisher King Press (Release: 12/1/14)

Celibacy and Soul: Exploring the Depths of Chastity is for women and men who have chosen to live into celibate chastity. It is also for those people who live celibate love, and though not vowed to a religious calling, know the way of celibate love as their path. You may find yourself celibate not by choice or you may hope it is a temporary stage. Perhaps life interrupted your plans with the death of a loved one, the loss of a relationship, the situation of illness, the trauma of abuse, or you simply didn't settle with the desired partner and you want to find meaning in your life as a celibate person. Celibacy and Soul is also useful for those in the helping professions, as the work of a therapist asks a celibate kind of loving that can be catalyst for change in both clients and practitioners.

Susan Pollard, Ph.D, is a Diplomate Jungian Analyst (Zurich) and member of the Association of Graduate Analytical Psychologists. She is a member and training analyst with the Australian and New Zealand Jungian Analysts and a member of the Sisters of St. Joseph. She has lectured both nationally and internationally on subjects related to analytical psychology and religion and has a full time analytical practice in South Australia.

The Orphan: A Journey to Wholeness

by Audrey F. Punnett, Jungian Analyst

Publisher: Fisher King Press (Release: 6/21/2014)

The Orphan: A Journey to Wholeness addresses loneliness and the feeling of being alone in the world, two distinct characteristics that mark the life of an orphan. Regardless if we have grown up with or without parents, we are all too likely to meet such experiences in ourselves and in our daily encounters with others. With numerous case examples, Dr. Punnett describes how loneliness and the feeling of being alone tend to be repeated in later relationships and may eventually lead to states of anxiety and depression. The main purpose of this book is not to just stay within the context of the literal orphan, but also to explore its symbolic dimensions in order to provide meaning to the diverse experiences of feeling alone in the world. In accepting the orphan within, we begin to take responsibility for our own unique life journey, a privileged journey in which one can at some point in time say with pride, I am an orphan.

Audrey F Punnett, PhD, is a graduate of the C.G. Jung Institute, Zurich with diplomas in both Child/Adolescent and Adult Analytical Psychology. She is an Associate Clinical Professor, Psychiatry, the University of California San Francisco – Fresno; Adjunct Professor, Alliant International University; Registered Play Therapist – Supervisor, and Certified Sandplay Therapist – Teacher, ISST & STA, past President of the Board of Trustees. She is a member of AGAP, serving on the Board, and the CGJI-SF, past Chair of the Infant, Child & Adolescent Training Committee (iCAT). She has lectured and given workshops on the orphan in Europe, New Zealand, Taiwan, Canada and the USA, and published in peer reviewed Journals. Dr. Punnett maintains a private practice in Fresno, California.

Presidents Corner

“Dear Colleagues,

As you may remember, IRSJA voted to become an organizational member of NAAP. Here is a link to their website for your perusal and in case any of you would like to join them as individual members as well. <http://naap.org>

I hope spring is settling down for most of you, and that none of you have suffered the weather and fire disasters that have plagued parts of the country.

I send best wishes,

Pat”

Openings on the Training Committee

“Dear Inter-Regional colleagues,

The Training Committee will have two openings as of the elections at our fall meeting. Terms are for two years and I encourage you, if you have ever thought about getting more involved with the training program, to let me know about your interest. I have appreciated the chance to get to know my colleagues and be part of the activity which is so central to our community. Without the help of so many of you, we couldn't do it.

Warmly,

Medora”

Marketplace

Hello, My name is Amanda Chase (amandachase8@gmail.com) and I am a formal doctoral student of the Clinical PsyD program of Chestnut Hill College in Philadelphia. I am in possession of the Deluxe Edition of Carl Jung's Red Book, #125 of 129 made in 2009 and available only to members of the Philemon Foundation in Philadelphia. The book was handmade in Italy, and is in a cloth-bound clamshell box. The book itself is bound in quarter inch thick gold embossed red leather. The book, cover, case are all in immaculate, new condition. I am planning to post the book for auction on EBay this Friday (5/30) afternoon at a starting bid of $4,500. I am hoping you might be able to forward this information onto the members of your society so they are aware of this rare opportunity. The book will be available with complementary domestic and international shipping. If it does not sell, it will be available for sale on Amazon thereafter for a set price of $7,000. I would be so appreciative if you could make this information known to your society, as I believe its members would be among those most interested in and appreciative of such an item. Please feel free to forward my name and e-mail if anyone has any questions. Either way, thank you so much for your time.

Best,
Amanda

Call for Papers

Following the success of the first two European conferences in Vilnius and St Petersburg, we are please to invite proposals for the third conference to be held in the beautiful north-eastern Italian city and seaport of Trieste, lying between the Adriatic Sea and Slovenia. The conference will consider the influence of culture on analysis today and its effects on patients, professionals, social groups and organizations. Proposals of not more than 400 words are invited for papers and panels relevant to the conference theme including proposals of work across cultures with children and adolescents. The conference will include small group discussions and a social dreaming matrix.

Please send your proposals to Jan Wiener, Chair of the Programme Committee, at jan.wiener@virgin.net and Pramila Bennett, Organizing Committee, at pramilabennett@btinternet.com by Monday 13 October 2014 at the very latest. The website for the conference is www.jungianconferences.com and can be consulted on line from July 2014 with further details available from September 2014.

New Book Announcement

Shared Realities: Participation Mystique and Beyond (Mark Winborn, Editor) is now available for purchase. Shared Realities brings together Jungian analysts and psychoanalysts from across the United States, the United Kingdom, and France. Jung's concept of participation mystique is used as a starting point for an in depth exploration of 'shared realities' in the analytic setting and beyond. The clinical, narrative, and theoretical discussions move through such related areas as: projective identification, negative coniunctio, reverie, intersubjectivity, the interactive field, phenomenology, neuroscience, the transferential chimera, shamanism, shared reality of place, borderland consciousness, and mystical participation. This unique collection of essays bridges theoretical orientations and includes some of the most original analytic writers of our time. An essential read for psychoanalysts, Jungian analysts, psychotherapists, and analytic candidates. Published by Fisher King Press.

Praise for Shared Realities

“The breadth of these essays is truly extraordinary. Reading them has enriched both my personal and professional life. I highly recommend this book.”

Donald Kalsched, Ph.D.

“This book is a true delight for anyone intrigued by those “moments of meeting”, moments of awe, when the ineffable becomes manifest, when we feel the shiver down our spine, be it in our work or in a moment of grace as we sit quietly in nature. Shared Realities offers nourishment for the clinician, for the intellect and, most importantly, for the soul. I highly recommend it!”

“We could all be mediums, and all have absolute knowledge, if the bright light of our ego consciousness would not dim it. ... I have myself observed that in states of extreme fatigue, when I am really dangerously physically exhausted, I suddenly get absolute knowledge.”
